The International Economic Development Council—IEDC—is a nonprofit membership organization serving economic developers. With more than 4,700 members from around the world, IEDC is the world’s largest professional organization committed to the advancement of the economic development professional.
PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT
Certification & Accreditation

More than 50 internationally recognized education courses produced annually and the accreditation Certified Economic Developer (CEcD)

NETWORKING & EDUCATIONAL CONFERENCES
Four conferences throughout the year, with an annual conference of more than 1,400 professionals from around the world

ADVISORY SERVICES & RESEARCH
Customized research for your economic development challenges

AWARDS, PUBLICATIONS & RESOURCES
Latest trends and topics in economic development with bi-monthly e-newsletter EDNOW, the professional quarterly ED journal, and our own Economic Development Research Partners (EDRP) program

Visit iedconline.org/international to learn about additional services and membership
The International Economic Development Council—IEDC—is a nonprofit membership organization serving economic developers. With more than 4,700 members from around the world, IEDC is the world’s largest professional organization committed to the advancement of the economic development professional.