Host an IEDC Conference in Your Community

Work alongside IEDC to host a future Annual Conference, Leadership Summit, or Economic Future Forum in your city.

Benefits for Hosting a Conference:

- Increased visibility for your city
- A boost in revenue as a result of new travelers
- An opportunity to tailor-make a program that highlights your city's uniqueness
- Enhanced recognition for the economic development work you're doing

Hosting allows you to attract economic development experts to your community and provides the opportunity to show off your economic development initiatives and best practices to attendees.

Ask an IEDC staff member for an information packet.
